OER Presentation at Gateway Community

Made possible by a GCC Foundation Grant for Designing an ESL 178 class using OER
By Susan Chenard
ESL Coordinator
Humanities Department
December 2018
OBJECTIVE: To design an ESL 178 class using OER
Challenge: To replace two expensive textbooks with OER:

Process: Replace reading and reference material included on Blackboard in the Course Content from the textbooks with OER material
Steps: Review the four Course Content folders and collect material from the following sources:
1. Resources listed on the GCC library:
   1. Open library homepage
   2. Click on Research Guides
   3. Click on Open Educational Resources (OER)
   4. Click on FIND
   5. Click on English as a Second Language
   6. Click on ESL 178
   7. Click on OER
   8. Review material
   9. Select OER material
Sources selected:
1. Texts from GCC library journal subscriptions such as the New York Times and references
2. Web links such as to the Purdue University Online Writing Lab (OWL)
3. YouTube video links to the authors including in the readings
4. TED Talks to the authors and/or material related to the topic
5. Material I created on Blackboard such as PowerPoints, Quizzes, Assignments, Tests, and Rubrics
Outcome: The OER ESL 178 class was created. I will pilot the use of the material collected for this OER-based class informally in the Spring 2019 and formally in the Summer 2019 schedule.
Screenshot from Blackboard Course Content Unit One showing different OER embedded in the class:
ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

1. Great thanks to our librarian Jian Yang for her critical support in the research of OER for this class.
2. Great thanks to Dr. Clara Ogbaa and Martha Lipowski for obtaining the OER professional development grant from the Gateway Community College Foundation.